Manchester provides an excellent model of 19th century urban planning. It features a thoughtful integration of manufacturing plants, river canals for power (filled in and used as roadways today), housing for employees, and a downtown center where people meet for shopping, dining, and entertainment.

Stroll along the Riverwalk and marvel at how this giant complex of brick buildings—more than a mile long—has adapted to the needs of modern society. For deeper insight, visit the nearby Milliard Museum, which opened in 2001. Continue on your journey and visit the many cultural landmarks of downtown Manchester, listed at the bottom of this page. Web information is available at www.intownmanchester.com.

Manchester vigorously supports its local athletic teams, and sports rivalries thrive in all seasons. Home of the Manchester Monarchs Hockey team, one of the newest members of the AHL, games are played in the exciting Verizon Wireless Arena. Located in the heart of downtown, the arena also presents ice shows, the circus, concerts, athletic contests, and a wide array of arena entertainment.

Elm Street is the heart of downtown Manchester. It boasts numerous restaurants, shops and galleries, most of which are owned and serviced by local folk, who’ll make sure you receive excellent value for your patronage. Please sample the excellent businesses listed in this guide.

Manchester City Hall

The historic Amoskeag Mill complex in all of North America (highlighted in purple on both banks of the Merrimack River) is listed on the National Register of Historic Places. By the early 1900s, Manchester had become the world leader in textile manufacturing, employing 15,000 people, producing up to 600 miles of cloth in a day, and exporting worldwide today. Today it remains an exciting center for productive business and commercial activity.

Amoskeag Fishways

Amoskeag Fishways is one of the newest members of the AHL, games are played in the exciting Verizon Wireless Arena. Located in the heart of downtown, the arena also presents ice shows, the circus, concerts, athletic contests, and a wide array of arena entertainment.

Welcome to Manchester, NH
Where History Invites Opportunity
Consistently ranked at the top of magazine polls for its superb quality of life and ease of doing business, the historic City of Manchester is headquarters for corporate offices of some of the most recognized names in the fields of high tech and financial services.

Neighborhoods characterized by genteel Victorian-era homes mask the innovative and entrepreneurial spirit of our city’s residents. The 19th century continues today in a variety of ways - through fast food kings, the MacDonald brothers, who hailed from this city; through the establishment of US FIRST, the nation’s premier robotics competition for high school students; and through a tradition of welcoming newcomers and immigrants. Today more than 78 foreign languages are spoken in the homes of Manchester’s schoolchildren.

As the transportation and cultural hub of Northern New England, and the largest city in New Hampshire, Manchester is proud of its eclectic blend of diverse culture and historic presence. This is a city where cutting-edge technology partners with soccer moms and dads; where not one, but two symphonies perform regularly in a nationally registered historic theater; where out-of-home media companies take root; where state-of-the-art hospitals and medical facilities strive to make a difference; and where downtown entertainment including vaudeville, comedians, and music attracts a broad audience.
